SUMMARY

Product Designer who has taken Gen AI and agentic products from discovery to live pilots, as a sole designer across 10 client engagements at Capgemini. I work daily with product managers, engineers, framing problems with users and CXO stakeholders, writing user stories and acceptance criteria, prototyping, and staying in the build phase, ensuring final build matches the intended design.

EXPERIENCE

Product Designer

Capgemini

10/2023 - 06/2026

- Sole designer across 10+ engagements, working daily with product managers and engineers from problem definition through wireframes, flows, and production-ready mobile and web UI, including sitting with engineers through build to hold visual quality in the shipped product.
- Facilitated discovery and ideation workshops with CXO-level stakeholders across 3+ global clients, synthesizing stakeholder priorities into defined problem statements and solution direction.
- Redesigned the consumer product discovery funnel from a static catalog into an intent-driven browse experience, reducing choice overload and cutting product-page drop-off 10% across a 500-customer pilot.
- Proactively redesigned the returns flow to introduce a resale alternative, surfacing a flash-deal match to a nearby buyer with similar size and style preferences instead of defaulting to a warehouse return, estimated to reduce reverse logistics costs by ~30% in year 1 for the client.
- Built and maintained design systems across client products, with accessibility standards of WCAG 2.1 built into components and specs for developer handoff.
- Worked alongside engineering in Agile/Scrum, reviewed builds against specs through implementation, flagged design drift, resolved it with engineers; documented decisions, user stories and acceptance criteria.
